HORSE FALLS ON COLLECTOR.

John McGuinness May Die From Injuries Received.

NEW York, Dec. 21.—John McGuinness, 69 years old, of No. 31 Prospect place, Jersey City, was collecting food and clothing for the poor of St. Patrick's Catholic Parish when his wagon was overturned and he was thrown to the ground.

The horse slipped and fell on him. McGuinness could not move. The horse struggled to rise, but each time fell back on him. Beveral women hurried from their homes and screamed. This attracted several men, who released McGuinness. His right ankle was broken and he received internal injuries which will probably cause his death. All the goods collected had been scattered in the snow. These the women picked up and they will be distributed among the poor in a few days.

PRESENTS FOR RICH AND POOR.

Mermod & Jaccard's Stock Replete With Appropriate Christmas Gifts.

All those who are in doubt as to what they will give their friends and families for Christmas would do well to visit Mermod & Jaccard, at Broadway and Locust street. This great jewelry house has made provision for the season of Noel, and has collected objects from all the manufacturing countries of the world, from which both rich and poor may select, and please the favored ones with the selection.

At present Mermod & Jaccard's store is probably the most artistically arranged establishment of its kind in the United States. The stock is presented to the public in the best possible way, and one feels at home the minute the doors are entered. While the stock displayed represents—a greater capital than any other jewelry house west of the Mississippl, the person who desires to purchase only a thimble is given as much attention as customers at the jewel counter or the buyer of a case of silver.

This year the company takes particular pridle in the number of absolute novelties which it has to offer. New wares, crystalized into every kind of facinating design, are to be found in every department. The cut-glass department is particularly interesting. Glistening sets of glass and individual pieces occupy the entire northern section of the first floor. The choicest wares of Libby, imported from England, are exhibited. The firm being the largest dealer in this ware in the country, is given especially low prices, and offers some great bargains in cut glass.

In a recent trip to Saxony, Mr. Mermod collected some rare specimens of antique Dresden and Meisen chim. These valuable articles occupy a special case in the china department. The collection is composed of Dresden and Melsen china. These valuable articles occupy a special case in the china department. The collection is composed of elegant old plates, coffee sets, ewers, cups and ornaments, such as are given prominent place in European museums. Distributed throughout the stock are "grandfather's hall clocks," which range in price from $60 to $1.000. Many of these clocks, which are for the most part of Swiss make, have been bought lately for wedding and anniversary presents.

for the most part of Swiss make, have been bought lately for wedding and anniversary presents.

In the line of Swiss manufacture there are numerous music boxes, musical steins and artistle mechanical devices. The music-box department, which is on a balcony, surrounding the ground floor, is the most complete ever seen in St. Louls. The piano tone, which has been strived for by manufacturers of music boxes for more than two centuries, is perfected in sweral of the high-class specimens displayed for sale.

Entering the store by the Broadway entrance, one finds at his left the department of jewels. Here in the cases are presented splendid gems, such as an Empress might wear, watches and jewelry of the lesser order. To the right is the assortment of solid sliver, which is entirely complete. Directly opposite the door is the gold novelty department.

Entering by the Locust street door the leather goods are first seen. This assortment of the control of the leather goods are first seen. This assortment includes the best specimens of burnt, stamped and carved leather. To the left is the umbrella counter. The company has in stock 2000 varieties of umbrellas, but since the holiday rush umbrellas are going at the rate of 200 per day. The optical department is at the left of the Locust street door.

Marshal Boble Takes Train Robber

Kilpatrick to Columbus. Ben Kilpatrick, the train robber, was taken to the Penitentiary at Columbus, O., yesterday by United States Marshal Buhle sesterday by United States Marshal Bohle and two deputies. He will enter upon a fifteen-year sentence for having in his possession and passing forged bank notes which were issued to the National Bank of Helena, Mont. Klipatrick and three other men held up a Great Northern Express train near Wagner. Mont. on July 3 and robbed it of $45.000 in unsigned bank notes. Klipatrick passed several of these notes in St. Louis. When they had been filled out with forged signatures of the bank of-ficials.

Kilpatrick passed several of these notes in St. Louis. When they had been filled out with forged signatures of the bank efficials.

Laura Bullion, the woman who accompanied Kilpatrick in his travels and did nost of the forging, will be sent to the Missouri Penitentiary as soon as she thoroughly recovers from her vaccination.

Chief of Detectives Desmend, is whose custody the train robber has been since his capture, gave him a final "sweating" Friday night, but Kilitatrick was as slient as ever and refused to talk about his train robber companions or the robbery of the Great Northern.

Writ Procured Ordering Changes by Railroad.

New York, Dec. 21.—On the application of William J. Roome and Mary J. Smith, resi-dents of Park avenue, Justice Leventritt granted a writ of certiforari directed to the Board of Health to compet the reviewal of the decision of that department that certain changes should be made in the New York Central tunnel.

It is claimed by the petitioners that the Beard of Health had no authority to order the change in the tunnel, and that its plans, if carrier out, will, instead of abating the nuisance, increase the annoyance to which the residents of the locality are subjected.

OBTAINED WARRANT FOR THEFT.

Mrs. Runa Proceeds Against Man She Captured. Mrs. Fannie G. Runa of No. 1706 Locus street swore out a warrant charging petit larceny yesterday against John Williams, whom she captured in her house at noon Friday. The warrant charges the theft of an overcoat from Clarence Hills, a reomer at the house.

Williams, engaged a room in the house for a week, paying 50 cents down. When Mrs. Runa left him he put on Hillis's overcoat and started out of the house. She caught him, dragged him inside and held him at bay with a revolver until the arrival of the police.
